SL No 20 : Dated 18.09.2020

On September 18th, 2020, a webinar titled "Virtual Learning: The Road Ahead" brought together educators, experts, and stakeholders to discuss the evolving landscape of online education. Hosted in a virtual format, the event aimed to explore the challenges, opportunities, and best practices associated with virtual learning in today's rapidly changing world. This write-up recaps the key highlights and takeaways from the insightful webinar.

The webinar "Virtual Learning: The Road Ahead" presented a holistic perspective on the challenges and potential of virtual education in the ever-evolving educational landscape. The event shed light on the need for continuous adaptation, collaboration, and technological integration in order to provide high-quality online learning experiences to students. By taking these insights and recommendations into consideration, educators and stakeholders will be better equipped to navigate the exciting road ahead in virtual education.

The event was inaugurated by our honourable Principal Madam and the resource person of this session was Dr. Parthasarathi Mukhopadhyay, Professor, Dept of Library and Information Science, University of Kalyani.

The Geography Department organized its first International Webinar on 24th September 2021. Dr. Abiar Rahman, Professor, Department of Agroforestry and Environment, Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman Agricultural University was the resource person. With his vast field experience the renowned academician enriched us on the theme of "Agroforestry for sustainable crop production, income generation and climate change mitigation." He gave interesting examples of agroforestry practices from Bangladesh. In the interactive session the students and faculty participated enthusiastically. Dr. Sukla Basu, Professor in Rural Studies, West Bengal State University of Barasat graced the webinar as a special guest participant. The gender dimensions of agroforestry and the significance of agroforestry practices in an era of emerging contract farming were among the issues discussed in the interactive session.

Dr Ghosh emphasized the need to protect oneself through HPV vaccination. The exercises for pelvic muscles and breast self-examination techniques were explained with beautiful step wise diagrams. A question answer session followed. Our students raised questions on personal PCOD, headache, menstrual pain and stress issues. They were assured and advised very patiently by Dr Debolina Ghosh.

The second session was on CPR. The COLS method was explained very diligently by Dr Gargi Ghosh with the help of colourful slides. This showed how to save a person in case of emergency. It was followed by hands on demonstration and active learning on mannequin on the floor. 10 students and 2 teachers learnt the mechanism by immediate practice under the able guidance of Dr Gargi Ghosh.

The session closed with distribution of certificates and vote of thanks.

Workshop on Self Defence

The community crew of the Department of Geography arranged a workshop on self defence on 12th April 2023. The demonstration and short training were held at the New Science building ground for 2 hours from 8.45 am onwards. The trainer was Miss Nibedita Jele , a student of Semester 2 Geography Honours, Rammohan College. She is a purple stripe belt. She has been trained from the SubrotoSesenkai School of Martial Art, Andul in Shito-Ryu style. She demonstrated steps in Kumite (Self Defence). The participants were students of Semester 2 Honours, Semester 2 General and Semester 6 Honours of the Geography Department. The skills displayed are very useful for self-defence. This was an exposure to Karate for the participants. Some of them expressed interest in taking up karate lessons from their neighbourhood Dojos in future.

SL No 51 Intellectual Property Right

The Department of Political Science, in collaboration with IQAC, had arranged a seminar on Intellectual Property Rights on 22/02/2024. Professor Anirban Mazumder, a faculty member of the renowned academic institution, the West Bengal National University of Juridical Science, Kolkata, was the distinguished speaker. It was an illuminating session not only for students, but faculty members present there also benefited. He had begun his lecture with the definition of property and its classification. Intellectual property, i.e., the creations of the mind, falls into the category of intangible property. Unless it is accessible to the cultural life of the community, it remains incomplete. Our students, while asked to name a few intellectual property items, spontaneously responded and mentioned books, vaccines, gadgets, etc. Finally, he had provided the philosophical legitimization of intellectual property with reference to John Locke's Theory of Labour. It was a great interactive session between the speakers and the students.
